Partnering with Legal Services to Address Social and Structural Issues that Impede Quality Health Care for Individuals Experiencing Homelessness

Many of the underlying causes of homelessness in the United States are social factors such as unstable housing, unemployment and underemployment, and general economic instability. These factors cannot only trap someone in a perpetual cycle of homelessness, but can lead to a cascade of health problems. The Health Care for the Homeless (HCH) model of care’ has long been on the cutting edge of integrated, compassionate, holistic care to address these problems. However, many of the factors that contribute to the complex health needs of individuals experiencing homelessness are rooted in deep structural issues that go well beyond the reach of the clinic. To truly meet the complex needs of individuals experiencing homelessness, health care teams benefit from legal expertise to help navigate problems that go well beyond the health center’s doors.
Frequent Legal Needs of Individuals Experiencing Homelessness

At the 2016 National Health Care for the Homeless National Conference and Policy Symposium in Portland, Oregon, 53 consumers were surveyed about their civil legal needs. The results revealed the majority, 67 percent, had experienced at least one of the following civil legal needs during the time they were homeless:

1. Landlord/tenant issues;
2. Evictions;
3. Unsafe housing;
4. Difficulty placing family members together in shelters;
5. Housing discrimination; and
6. Denial or appeal for benefits.

Forty percent of these consumers reported experiencing five or more civil legal needs during the time they were homeless. Also of note, the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs’ annual survey of homeless and at-risk Veterans has consistently reported that civil legal assistance is among the top unmet needs in this population.
How Legal Services Help Address Specific Social Determinants of Health for Individuals Experiencing Homelessness

The information in this chart was derived from the messaging guide, “Framing Legal Care as Health Care” and the fact sheet, “Social Determinants of Health: Predictors of Health among People without Homes.”

MEETING PEOPLE WHERE THEY ARE:
Bringing Legal Services Directly to Homeless Patients

To address these common legal needs, Healthcare for the Homeless sites develop medical-legal partnerships to provide patients with legal services for issues that directly affect their health, further increasing the efficacy of health interventions. MLPs integrate legal services and expertise into health care settings. Lawyers become an important part of the health care team, taking referrals and providing consultations just like any other specialist. Health care and legal professionals identify problems like those outlined in the chart on page three, and together, they establish protocols and interventions to address many of these needs at the health care site. It is a highly flexible intervention that adapts to the needs of a specific population and setting. Typically MLPs:

1. HAVE A “LAWYER IN RESIDENCE” who works on-site at the health care organization.

2. HAVE A FORMAL AGREEMENT between the participating health and legal organizations outlining responsibilities and services.

3. DEFINE A TARGET POPULATION to receive services.

4. SCREEN PATIENTS FOR HEALTH-HARMING LEGAL NEEDS to find those patients who might not otherwise have their health-harming legal needs identified or addressed.

5. HAVE DEDICATED LEGAL STAFFING to provide MLP services at the health care organization.

6. TRAIN HEALTH CARE PROVIDERS ON COMMON SOCIAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH and how legal expertise and services can help mitigate the negative impact of social determinants on health and health care.

7. SHARE INFORMATION about patients between health and legal staff to solve health-harming legal problems or address social determinants.

8. DESIGNATE FINANCIAL RESOURCES to support the medical-legal partnership activities.

Our legal partner has helped many people get into housing. They have intervened when landlords are not following fair housing protocols, or when landlords put layers of invalid charges on credit reports lowering credit scores to keep people out of housing. An attorney can work to get these charges taken off. MLPs work well for individuals and families who are homeless.

The Impact of Medical-Legal Partnership Services on Homeless Veterans

Between June 2014 and January 2016, a study funded by the Bristol-Myers Squibb foundation examined the impact of medical-legal partnership services on Veterans at four health care organizations in Connecticut and New York. The Veterans in the study were experiencing mental illness, homelessness, or both. During the study, medical-legal partnership services were provided to 950 Veterans who collectively had 1,384 legal issues related to housing, consumer debt, child support, and disabilities. A subsample of 148 Veterans were followed for a year to track their outcomes following MLP intervention.

The study found that:

- In the first three months, Veterans who received full legal representation showed significant reductions in symptoms of hostility, paranoia, psychosis, Generalized Anxiety Disorder, and Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder;
- At twelve months, Veterans continued to show significant reductions in symptoms of hostility, paranoia, and Generalized Anxiety Disorder, and had improvements in housing status and total income;
- The study revealed that Veterans who received more medical-legal partnership services showed greater improvements in housing, substance abuse, and mental health, than those who received fewer medical-legal partnership services; and
- Veterans that achieved their predefined legal goals showed greater improvements in housing status and community integration than those who did not meet their predefined goals.

A Note on the Cost of Medical-Legal Partnership Services Focused on Homeless Veterans

Although the study funded by the Bristol Myers Squibb Foundation did not include an official cost savings analysis, the participating medical-legal partnerships estimated that:

AVG. AMOUNT OF TIME TO RESOLVE A LEGAL ISSUE

5.4 HOURS

AVG. COST OF PROVIDING MLP SERVICES TO HOMELESS VETERANS

$50-$70 AN HOUR

$270-$405 PER LEGAL ISSUE ADDRESSED

This is a fraction of the average annual direct costs to provide health care to a person who is chronically homeless, has severe mental illness, or both, which ranges from $10,000-$60,000.9,10,11

“Providing legal assistance where clients get their healthcare can improve their lives in both worlds. People don’t think of legal and medical problems as related, but actually resolving one can help the other.”
